Historical Programs

Colonial/Victorian/The Civil War/Turn of the Century/Tin Pan Alley

Lydia performs in costume solo or with other artists.

One Earth So Green & Round

Lydia also has extensive experience as a children's recording artist/performer/music educator. Lydia attracts attention with original, highly educational, ecology themes using her wild animal puppets with messages to make a difference in caring for our world. Lydia works with other performing artists to present important ideas on our environment in fun and approachable ways.

Story Book Songs, Puppeteering, Songwriting Workshops, School/Library Programs

Children's favorite stories become songs "write" out of the book!

Lydia will research and create songs on any topic of choice including local history to meet program requests.

It's a Mighty Hard Road

A program of songs and stories inspired by John Steinbeck's Grapes of Wrath. Lydia Adams Davis presents a tuneful trek across America in The Great Depression. Cross the country in an old pickup truck meeting and working with migrant farm workers singing Union songs in the camps. Hear Hobo's Lament: dreaming of a job through the hardships made lighter by song. Tin Pan Alley tunes will lift the spirit! Join in on dust bowl ballads of Woody Guthrie and urban country blues.
